

WILL CELEBRATE WITH A LUAU

The recent victory at the primary elections in the fighting precinct of the Fifth district, when the defeated faction was made to look like a battered copper coin, will be fittingly observed this afternoon at the Kalia Detention Camp. The fatted calf, which in this instance is a big bullock, a tempting array of porkers cooked in imu, and all the kindred edibles which make up a first class luau, will be served to the voters who made the victory possible. The luau is scheduled to commence at 3:30 p. m.

It is planned to have a flow of reason permeate the discussion of the estates, and several of the Fifth District orators will be present to tell how it all happened, and incidentally give some pointers on the way to vote at the coming county election. The luau will be projected into the evening, at which time the crowd is expected to be augmented by the arrival of voters from outside precincts. As little work is to be done by stevedores on the waterfront today the luau will not want for guests. William Henry and Henry Vida are prominent in making the arrangements for the feast.

A decision in the Miller court martial case is expected within a few days. The court has already passed upon the matter but Col. Jones has not acted. At the hearing Sergeant Miller pleaded guilty to being absent without leave, but certain extenuating circumstances were presented in evidence.

Taka, a Japanese boy, was assaulted by a man of the same race Saturday afternoon on Nuuanu street above the brickyard. A bad scalp wound was inflicted. Taka's assailant is said to have beaten him with a bucket after knocking him down with a stone. Taka was taken to the Japanese hospital for treatment.

Rev. W. M. Kincaid delivered a sermon at Central Union church yesterday morning on "The True Place of the Cross." He gave an interesting account of some of the things he witnessed on his recent travels in the Holy Land. Mr. Kincaid said that the scene of the crucifixion was not at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre as is reported by the traditions of eighteen centuries ago. He located the place on a green covered hill just outside of Jerusalem.

Executive Officer J. S. B. Pratt, who returned in the Kinau Saturday, has been in Hilo trying to settle the fishmarket feud. The Board of Health has passed resolutions a number of times at the request of parties to the fight, and the legislature also considered the matter at one time. Still the Hiloites are dissatisfied and Dr. Pratt was sent over to make a personal investigation. He will report at the meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday.
